Manly Man

One thing that we were disappoint about in Istanbul was that there were no good beaches to swim in.

There were a few places.

But they were very disappointing.

Then one day.

We were walking along the shoreline from Bebeck to Orkyodai

We saw many people who were enjoying sunbathing along the side of the road.

When we got to one point,
we saw that many young guys were swimming.

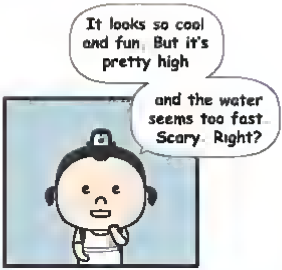
They bravely jumped into the water.
They were carried away by the water.
And then climbed back up a ladder.



It looks so cool and fun. But it's pretty high and the water seems too fast. Scary. Right?

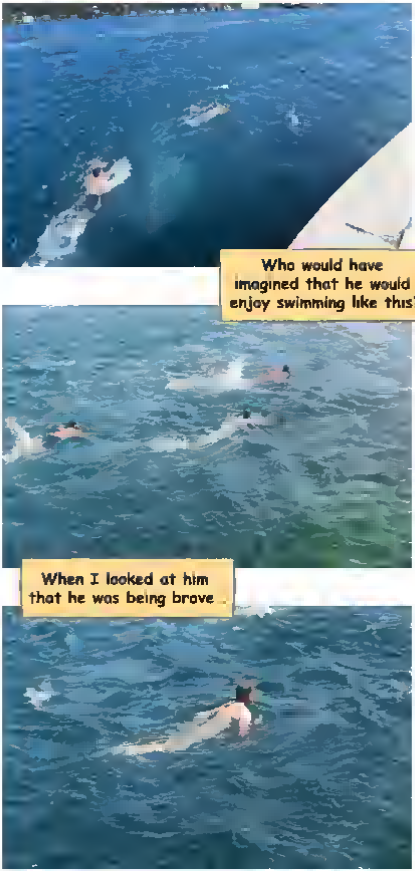
Mev wanted to try.

The other guys cheered Mev on.

He jumped into the water!!



Who would have imagined that he would enjoy swimming like this?
When I looked at him that he was being brave

Penguin
You try it too! Your clothes will dry soon It's so cool in here

I.. I'm fine!

Looks fun..

.. I thought he looked so manly and cool.

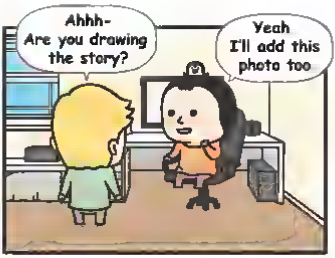
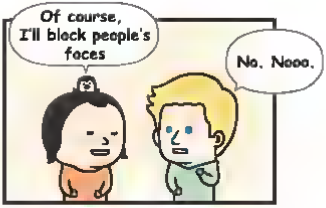
Back to the present.



Ahhh-
Are you drawing the story?
Yeah
I'll add this photo too



Of course,
I'll block people's faces
No. Nooo.

But the Mev who forced me to do this is not very cool.

Arrrr
